B. Category - (1) The military

(2) Liaison agents who travel constantly.

C. Category - Administrative personnelMethods of Determining Rations

Divide the ration in two parts: one part into paddy and the other into money for food purchases.

(a) Paddy Allotment: The paddy allotted must provide 1 liter of rice daily. In sections where paddy is not sufficient, an equivalent money allotment can be made by the Provincial Administrative and Resistance Committee. At the beginning of each month the Provincial Committee will announce, by circular, the prevailing cost of rice in the various sections of the province.

No organization is authorized to pay for husking any paddy distributed. As the majority do not consume all the allotted paddy, the huskers will be able to use the surplus for their livestock or in any other lucrative manner.

Those organizations which have no means of husking paddy, can utilize any surplus paddy for hiring the necessary workers.

In sections of the East, such as Bien Hoa, Long Thanh, Baria, etc., the paddy allotment can be mixed with dried potatoes or maize in amounts equal to one liter of rice.

The Dong Nai Division of Intersector VII, which is subject to constant movement, must be rationed rice, potatoes and maize in amounts equivalent to 1.2 liters of rice.

(b) Currency Allotments. With the exception of such allotments as mentioned above, the amount of money distributed will depend on the cost of living in the region affected.

A Category is entitled to double the regular amount.

B Category is entitled to the regular amount plus 0.50 piasters for the regions of the West, of the Center (Provinces of the West) and of Cholon. One piaster extra will be paid in the provinces of the East with the exception of Cholon.

C Category is entitled to the regular allotment of the region.

The present reduced state of national finances makes food ration increases a bold venture in the improvement of living conditions for military and civilian personnel in Nam Bo. The Nam Bo Committee hereby instructs committees of all zones, provinces and all other organizations to stimulate production and financial contributions, while reducing expenses. In this way, the cost of living may be lowered and an adequate stability restored.

All organizations are further reminded to apply Decree 10/SV-I of 3 September 1950 dealing with the production of each organization.

No organization is authorized the allocation of rations beyond those listed above, except for the press, which is subject to Circular 887/P2 of 9 October, issued by the Nam Bo Committee.
